

A noble man went to be appointed king.

He told his servants:

Put this money to work until I get back.

10 minas

But some of his servants hated him.

One coronation later...

Ok, what did you do with my money?

I got you 10 more minas!

Nice. Take charge of 10 cities.

I got you 5 minas!

Take charge of 5 cities.

I put it in a cloth? Because I was scared??

Give that to the one with ten minas.

But sir, he already has ten!
